Chris Smith, one of our FHA volunteers, has a fascinating tale to tell about his family history...

Join Chris at The Poly on Tuesday 26th March at 2.30pm for an illustrated talk based on over 5,800 family documents, letters and photographs.

Not many of us has a family history which includes a clog maker turned boot factory entrepreneur, a Falmouth jewellery shop owner, the founder of an internationally known School of Mines and a mother who, during WWII, worked as a liaison officer between the Free French fighters in Vichy controlled French Levant and MI6 HQ in Cairo!
